Kipnes Centre residents are making new memories in the newly designed Family Room

Imagine the mouth-watering aroma of an apple pie in the oven. The sound of family laughter fills the room.

This is the new Family Room at Kipnes Centre for Veterans, created to give families and friends of residents a private space to celebrate special occasions, holidays, or just a family games night or Sunday family dinner.

Thanks to the support from many individual donors and groups, the newly designed Family Room mirrors what could be found in a home. It's a great room, open area concept that features a fully functioning kitchen, dining and living area with an added bonus of a small children's play corner.

A china cabinet holds dishes that can be used for special occasions, just like at home. And the fireplace feature adds to the warm family atmosphere.

Can't you just imagine....

You made this happen.

Donors who have supported our Something's Missing projects, like this one at Kipnes, have truly made a difference.

Special thanks also to Interiors by Tara for her transformational vision.

Here's the dirt...

Gardening programs at Dickinsfield and Lynnwood bring year round living green.

Lynnwood has taken the gardens indoors, adding in raised garden beds for residents to tend during the winter. The TD Financial-supported Winter Cultivation Garden has been a huge success. Staff, residents, and families are all participating and snacking on the fresh fruits of their labour. Butter lettuce seems to be the big hit!

Lynnwood's outdoor east garden has needed a refresh for quite some time and you made it happen. With the funds raised from Something's Missing, the seniors and their families are now enjoying an updated east side garden that features cedar tower gardens, new comfortable seating and clematis trellises.

The plans for this area are still growing because of our donors supporting this community garden space. Our hope is that the west side garden encourages increased volunteering from the community surrounding Lynnwood, setting up a multi-use raised bed community garden concept for neighbours and residents of Lynnwood to all enjoy.

Dickinsfield's Grow and Learn program funded through a generous grant from TELUS Community Foundation brought two generations together to learn traditional soil planting and the newer age soilless tower gardening, both showcasing the 'old-fashioned' style of sustainable gardening. Just like the days when you used to pop outside to pick fresh peas and carrots from the garden for dinner tonight!
